Implementing the ISO 9001 standard and obtaining its certification indicates that you have established a framework based on best international practices, which intend to help organizations achieve their objectives, decrease their internal costs, increase their revenues and most importantly improve the level of customer satisfaction.

ISO 9001:2015 Audit Process

To gain and maintain an ISO certification the organization must go through regular 3rd party audits.

The Stage 1 audit is the first stage of the formal ISO certification audit. Stage 1 audit is carried out to review the document. An auditor from Lex-Q certification body will visit your site(s) to review your management system policies and processes to confirm they cover all the requirements of the ISO standard.

In the Stage 2 audit Lex-Q auditor sees the operation of the management system. Lex-Q auditor will be looking at your operational records, objectives, management review records, internal audit reports, etc.

If the Lex-Q auditor is convinced with organization requirement and operating an effective management system which ensures compliance with regulations.

The Stage 1 and Stage 2 audits assess your intent, implementation and management system effectiveness. An accredited ISO certification will be issued after successful certification audit.

An accredited ISO certificate is granted for three years, subject to maintaining your compliance. The scope of certification and renewal date are stated on the certificate. Once Lex-Q awarded your ISO certification, your organization is required to undergo regular surveillance visits to follow the continual improvement.

At the end of the three years you will be required to go through a re-certification audit.

At the end of the Audit, Lex-Q Auditors will provide you with an assessment report including an executive summary. Which states the continual improvement opportunity of your management systems. Following a successful assessment, you will be awarded a certificate.
